MR. GRICE--As Superintendent of Scotland Schools, we feel that he has done a superb job maintaining order here at school. Also, we feel as though we have gained a true personal friend.

MISS MURPHY--Whenever programs, notices, or typing work of any kind were to be done, Miss Murphy was always willing to help and do the best that she could. As for a commerce teacher, we couldn't have asked for a better one.

We, the Senior Class

Will our A's in English to the present juniors, the "out-door" in the study hall to the present sophomore class; our high ratio of girls (7) to boys (1) to the present freshman class; and Mrs. Aikman we will to the incoming freshmen.

Will to Mrs. Aikman, our orderly class meeting, our unpaid bills, and annual staff meetings.

Will to Mr. Aikman, Lady MacBeth, and our unwritten themes, book reports, and dialogues.

Will to Miss Murphy, all untyped reports master sheets to be run off, staplers, and all our wasted chewing gum.

Will to Mr. Grace, our SILENT locker rooms, the chair in front of the office door, and an empty lunch tray.

Will to Mr. Lementavich, all our geography and civics books, and the tests on the constitution.

Will to Mr. Owen, all our song notes, our old sheet music, and our attempts to play cupid.

Will to Mr. Dierdorf, the dents in the Driver Training car, our old films, and the ability to avoid wrecks.

Will to Mr. Wise, senior boys good conduct, all cafeterias to be moved, and foundations for the drivers training flags.

I, Gladys Averatti, will my ripe old age and my ability to keep quiet to Gertrude Eslinger provided she only talks during study hall and classes.

I, Chuck Conner, will the Christmas Girls to one of the amfucker twins on one condition: He sends me a complete written report at regular intervals.

I, Grace Conover, will my ability to go steady to Betty Jo Bonwell and my interest in green Cadillacs to Linda Vaught.

I, Hazel Hess, will my natural shyness and big feet to Gary Moti.

I, Linda Ingram, have nothing to will but will, will all my will to Carol Ingram.

I, Edward Porter, will my ability to chase girls to Hugh Newton.

I, Neil Porter, will my curly hair and gal Betty to my little brothers.

I, Alma Strow, will my ability to slide corners to Jim Wilson.

I, Cora Throneburg, will my 5" of cut-off hair to Phyllis Cooper.

I, Clarene Tingley, will my dimples to Connie Ingram since she is in such bad need of them.

We, the sophomores of nineteen and 58,
 Are worth gold equal
 to our weight.
 We always aim to have
 good health,
 And what care we about
 much wealth.
 From our class there
 may be a president
 elected,
 His vice, or a member
 of some office elected.
 And, (as it remains to be seen),
 From this class
 There may be a queen.
 So, as we ramble on
 our happy way,
 We'll let things come
 and go as they may.

OUR BIG

AS IT WAS TOLD BY

Chuck

CHUCK
CONNER:

A senior with lots of desire, Chuck has become a leader of the squad. Not being a real big boy, Chuck has had lots of work to do in handling the big boys that we have played, however, he did a swell job.

NEIL
PORTER:

The loss of Neil early in the season with a broken foot definitely hurt the squad. A terrific ball handler with lots of desire, he was, also, a leader of the team.

ED PORTER:

A senior, Ed is a hard worker with a good jump shot from the corner.

JOHN HIXON:

A junior with lots of fight has been a good rebounder and will give the squad next year more depth and desire.

Neil

KEN
GRUBB:

A junior with lots of scrap has been the leading scorer this year. Next year he should be a real scoring threat. Ken is a good rebounder for his size.

Ed

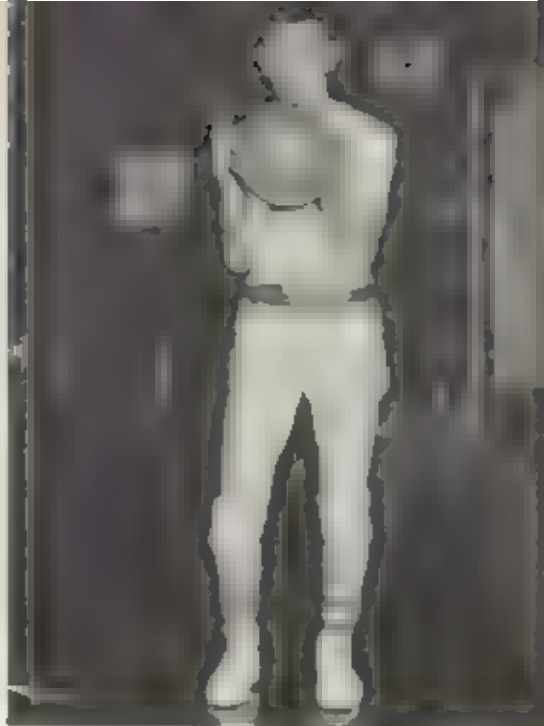

John

Ken

TEN

COACH
BREWINGTON

Ed

Ronnie

Maurice

ED HESS:

A junior with a good competitive spirit is the best set shot on the squad. He didn't hit his stride until late in the season, but he should have a real good year next year.

RONNIE
BOLEN:

Ronnie, who is only a sophomore, has good ballhandling ability and is a good shot. With a lot of fight and desire, Ronnie will be a tough competitor the next two years.

Richard

MAURICE
STRAW:

Maurice is a good sophomore with quick reflexes. He drives well and handles the ball well. With two years left, he should become quite a scoring threat.

RICHARD FULTON:

As a sophomore, Richard has developed into a good rebounder and a good shot this year. He is a hard worker, ready to play any time, and he should develop into a tough competitor in his next two years.

MIKE ESLINGER:

Mike, a freshman, is capable of becoming one of the best boys to play ball at Scotland. He is quite a scoring threat and handles the ball well for a big boy.
